

Would you like

some poetry

to read while you wait?

---

Poems in the Waiting Room

by Helen Greeves

Just £25 per year will provide poetry cards like these for you and other patients to read while waiting, and to take home.

Could you be a local 'Friend of PitWR' in this waiting room?

In return for a regular donation, as a Friend of PitWR you will receive a 100-page book of poems, a quarterly newsletter, and your own copy of each poetry card.

You would be joining hundreds of patients like you, who have and given the gift of poetry to your doctors waiting room.

Ask at Reception for details.

Waiting for the doctor's call
Isn't any fun at all,
But "Poems in the Waiting Room"
Quickly will dispel your gloom,
Take a card, and see inside
Poems gleaned from far and wide,
Poems modern, poems old,
Some are gentle, others bold,
Hardy, Baxter, Wylie, Guest,
Which ones do you like the best?
Old friends you'll find, and joys renew,
And as they are empowering you -
Shakespeare, Dickinson, Reese and all -
You will not mind the doctor's call.

---

Friends of PitWR

For more information see www.poemsinthewaitingroom.org
Email us on info@poemsinthewaitingroom.org
Or write to us at Poems in the Waiting Room
12 Abingdon Court Lane, Cricklade, Wiltshire. SN6 6BL

POEMS
IN THE WAITING
ROOM